PAQUA – the original solution to keeping your valuables safe and dry – in, on and out of the water.

PAQUA products are designed in Australia by active sportspeople, with the toughest applications in mind. Whether trekking through the jungle, snow-boarding your favourite run, or surfing at the beach – there is a growing need to keep your valuables safe, and dry in all conditions.

How does PAQUA work?

Utilising the reliable tri-fold method, and incorporating our unique 'air-lock' (patent pending) system – PAQUA products will keep enclosed items safe and dry during all water-based leisure activities (except scuba-diving). Some products feature a removable pouch to keep your valuables in order – phone, wallet, keys, cash, passport etc.

Are PAQUA products up to the task?

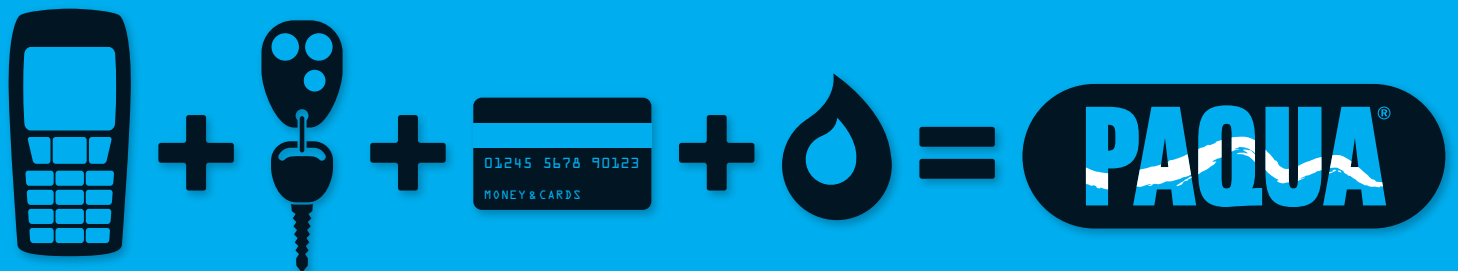

You can be certain each design has been 'rough-tested' to ensure the toughest product construction and material integrity. PAQUA products are also designed to be worn in a safe and comfortable way.

As an Australian company, we have access to some of the harshest terrain and weather conditions anywhere in the world – an ideal development platform for our products. Quality, innovation and comfort are integral to each design.

Dry packs for active sports are what we do, and we do them well. Most designs are not only waterproof, but submersible to at least 2m – ideal for many recreational applications – sports, travel, work and play. A growing list of professional usage includes: Search & Rescue, Lifeguard duties, Surf Lifesaving, Snow Patrol, sailing and extreme sports instruction. Whether for professional or personal use, we have a variety of products to meet your individual requirements.

We would like to thank APOLA, SLSA and GCCC for their photographic and location assistance.
